1. Introduction

The "Gym Website" was developed to address the problems with the manual system of training. The funding for this website is intended to eliminate, and in some cases, minimize, the challenges that the present system encounters. In order to run operations effectively, this system is also made to match the unique requirements of the firm.

To minimize data entry errors, the application is kept as straightforward as feasible. Additionally, when you submit inaccurate data, an error notification is displayed. To utilize this system, the user doesn't need any formal training. Just this shows how user-friendly it is. The aforementioned website can produce a fast, accurate, secure, and error-free administration system. By enabling users to easily join gyms and create fees, among other things, gym websites assist users in managing customer flows.

1.1 Product (Problem Statement)

The current system's file system interfaces are antiquated and challenging to use, processing is slow during check-in and check-out times, jobs are distributed to employees manually, there is no database backup, and security is lacking.

1.2 Background

We looked at the demands of the industry and found that every gym employs a paper-based filing system. In order to keep track of everything from members' personal information and payments to inventory and equipment purchases, they must maintain a huge amount of data. It takes a lot of time and effort to locate a document in the file system. They are not adequately protected, so a fire, a tsunami, or any other natural calamity could devastate them.

The objective of this project was to create a fully functional system to increase the effectiveness of gym administration. The goal of the new system is to make the administrative processes at the gym club as effective as possible so that the staff may finish their work more quickly.

1.3 Objective(s)/Aim(s)/Target(s)

The objectives of this project are as follows:

- To automate the management of membership.
- To develop a rapid system to increase efficiency.

- The administration interface is simple to use.
- Consolidating all of a gym's departments into a single piece of website.
- Convert manual processes to digital ones.

The Aims of these Objectives are as follows:

- To enable the addition, updating, and deletion of membership information as well as gym, trainer, and payment information by the gym management.
- It is easy to use.
- To create a responsive website.
- To simplify inventory management for the administrator.

The Targets of this project are as follows:

- Class schedules
- Target to provide great client experience.
- Class Schedules.
- Options for membership.

1.4 Scope

A gym website could provide details about the facility's address, opening times, list of services, classes it offers, and membership plans. It can also offer a method for enrolling in classes or memberships, viewing class schedules, and buying gym equipment.

1.5 Business Goals

To establish a reputation as a reliable and knowledgeable fitness facility. To increase membership and revenue by providing the local community with top-notch fitness services. To create a warm environment. To better the physical and mental health of members.

2. Overall Description

Context Diagram:

A context diagram illustrates the interactions between a system and external entities it communicates with. These diagrams serve to enhance comprehension of the system's operational environment. They offer an overview of the entire system or process under study or modeling. The context diagram is equivalent to the Level 0 Data Flow Diagram (DFD), representing the system at a high-level perspective.

2.1.1 Requirements Analysis and Modeling

Use Case Diagram:

A use case diagram for a gym website portrays the various interactions between different users and the system. It presents the website's functionalities and features, focusing on the perspectives of visitors, members, staff, and administrators. The diagram showcases use cases such as accessing gym information, viewing class schedules, becoming a member, updating personal details, scheduling classes, making payments, managing staff accounts, and monitoring system performance, among others. This comprehensive analysis highlights the interactions between visitors and the gym website, as well as the system's ability to meet their needs.

Activity Diagram:

The activity UML diagram of Muscle Studio illustrates the connections and sequences of activities between the Client, Trainer, and Admin. This diagram demonstrates the flow of actions and interactions among these entities within the Muscle Studio system.

2.1.2 User Classes and Characteristics

A class diagram is a visual depiction of the different classes or entities and their relationships within a gym website. Here is a general overview of a class diagram for a gym website:

User: The User class represents individuals who visit the gym's website. It can have subclasses like Visitor, Member, Staff, and Administrator.

Membership: The Membership class represents the various gym membership plans available. It may include attributes such as membership type, duration, and cost.

Class: This class exemplifies the fitness classes offered by the gym. Attributes like class name, description, and timetable can be included.

Booking: The Booking class represents a user who reserves a spot in a class.

Administrator: The Administrator class represents the system administrator or website owner. It can have attributes like admin ID, login credentials, and password.

2.1.3 Usage Scenarios

Identifier	Add Trainer
Purpose	This function assign classes and equipment to clients.
Priority	High
Pre-conditions	The Clients must be registered.
Post-conditions	Client Must mark their attendance.
Typical Course of Action
S#	Actor Action	System Response

2.1.4 Adopted Methodology

The Scrum framework is a popular and efficient approach for website development, operating as part of the agile methodology. Scrum focuses on fostering collaboration, flexibility, and value generation within short development cycles called sprints. It follows an incremental and iterative approach. By adopting Agile Scrum, the development team can iteratively build valuable features and functionalities for the gym website, promoting collaboration, adaptability, and continuous improvement throughout the development process.

2.2 Non-functional Requirement

2.2.1 Performance Requirements

It sets the standard for the expected response time of the system during operation. Even though the system was designed to achieve optimal performance, the hardware and software components of the machine responsible for the installation will greatly influence the system's overall performance.

2.2.2 Safety Requirements

Muscle Studio incorporates multiple user levels, with access to various subsystems being restricted through a login screen that requires a username and password. This authentication process enables users to access different views and functionalities based on their user-level privileges within the system.

2.2.3 Security Requirements

The Muscle Studio system grants access to owners, managers, and customer support agents. Customer service professionals will have access to lessons and attendance records. The owner, on the other hand, has complete and unrestricted access to all subsystems within the Muscle Studio platform.

2.2.4 Additional Software Quality Attributes

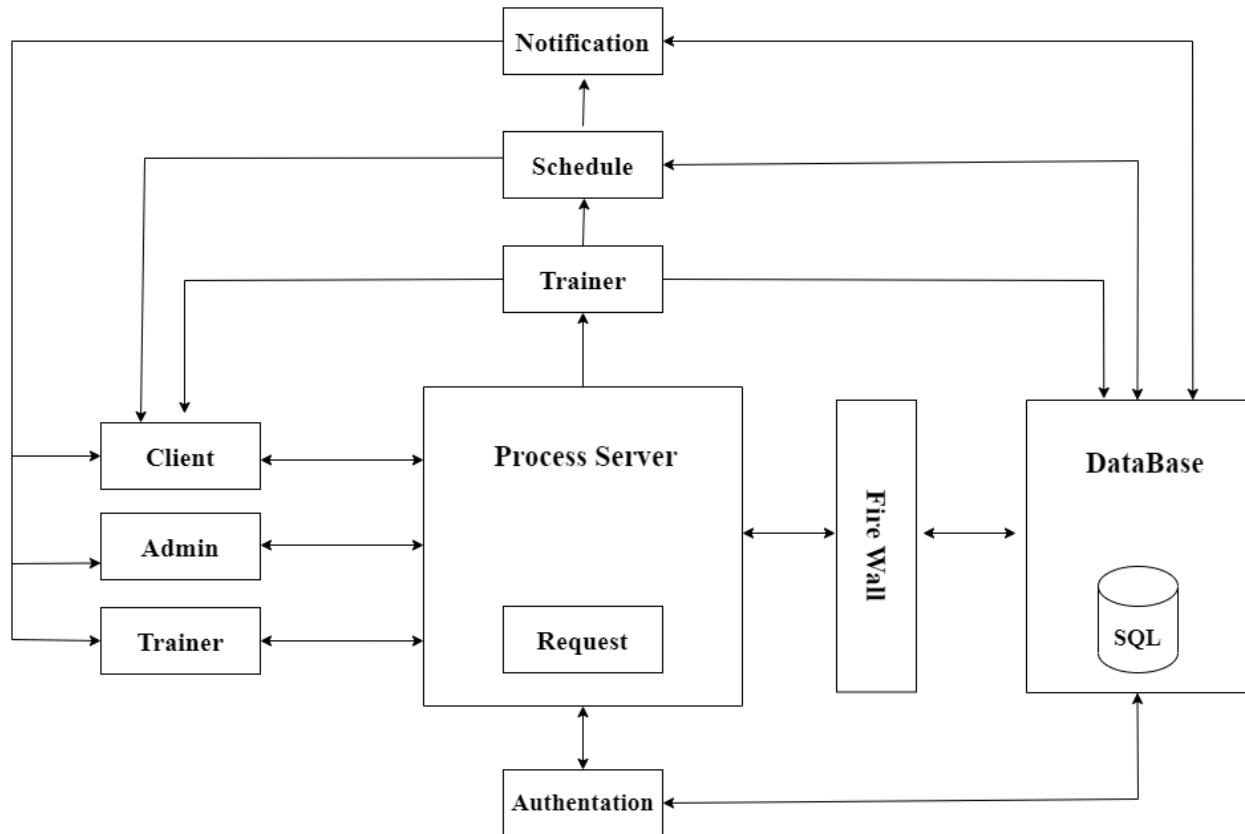

The Quality of the system is maintained in such a way so that it can be very user-friendly. The software quality attributes are assumed as under:

- AVAILABILITY: The system shall be available all the time.
- CORRECTNESS: A website that meets all of the client's criteria and is bug-free.
- MAINTAINABILITY: The ability to maintain, modify information and update fix problems of the system
- USABILITY: Any browser and device can be used to access the website.
- ACCESSIBILITY: Administrator and many other users can access the system but the access level is controlled for each user according to their work scope.
- ACCURACY: The reliability on the information/output. Can depend/be sure of the outcome.
- STABILITY: The system outcome/output won't change time to time. Same output will be given always for a given input.

3. Technical Architecture

The elements, accessible and necessary interfaces, ports, and connections between the client, admin, trainers, and services are shown in this diagram.

Muscle Studio

3.2.Component Interactions and Collaborations

A sequence diagram for a gym website illustrates the communications and interactions among various sections or participants during an event. Here is an overview of the actions involved in a flowchart for a gym website when a member books a fitness class:

- The user logs into the fitness center's website.
- Members can access the class schedule through the website.
- The member selects a specific class from the schedule.
- The website verifies if the user is eligible to sign up for the class, considering factors like membership status and available seats.
- The member receives a confirmation email or notification.
- The member can view the newly added class in their updated class schedule.
- Finally, the member can attend the reserved class at the designated time.
